THE INDIAN OUTBREAK.

STATEMENT OF THE TROUBLES ON THE SOUTHERN BORDER.

Ranchmen Killed, Buildings Burned, Stock Stolen, Villages Besieged and Volunteers Attacked.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the News from Mesilla says: It is said the Mesilla Apaches have been forced to leave the reservation near Fort Stanton by the action of the agent at that place. The Indians have expressed a wish that the soldiers might leave there, so that they could kill the agent. The following is an account of Indian outrages to date:

September 5th, Victoria, at the head of a large band, killed seven soldiers and captured sixty horses at Ojo Caliente.

On the 11th, they massacred a dozen soldiers and mutilated their bodies, outraged women, and brained children, killing seventeen all told, between McEwen's ranche and Hillsboro, a part of the killed belonging to the band of frontiersmen under Capt. Shankee.

Lieutenant Wright, of the Ninth Cavalry, with a part of his company and some volunteers and Najavo scouts, had a skirmish with the Indians. Captain Brier took command later in the day, and was repulsed, the Indians capturing most of his horses and pack train, and eight thousand rounds of ammunition. In a month Major Morrow takes command with three hundred men.

On the 12th of October news was received of the destruction of McEwen's and Lloyd's ranches; both men were killed. Seventeen volunteers have left Mesilla to succor other ranches. On the 13th they were attacked by Victoria's band. They slowly retreated, losing seven killed. The Indians pursue them for twelve hours, dashing on the volunteers before retiring, but were repulsed and chief Victoria was wounded eight miles from Mason's. Eleven bodies were found and buried. The women who had been taken prisoners at the stock, were killed, and everything was destroyed.

At Lloyd's ranche the body of Alexander Morton, of St. Louis, was found and buried. All the cattle were killed and implements and houses destroyed. From Lloyds volunteers went to succor Colorado and Santa Barbara, small towns which were surrounded by Indians, who dared the inhabitants out to fight. Nine men were killed by the Indians while surrounding the town. The volunteers dispersed the Indians and raised the siege. The Indians have gone to Florida mountains, thirty miles south of Fort Cummings, whence they can easily go into Mexico. Major Morris is near Jonas, fifty miles from here, and has sent for thirty day's provisions.

Fighting has been renewed at Sirkaikatal. The position was held by ninety Sepoys against heavy odds. The enemy left twenty-five dead."

A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Ali Kheyl, dated 19th says: "The cause of the explosion of the magazine of Balahissar is unknown. The first explosion occurred at half past one this afternoon, the second at 4. Further explosions are apprehended. The magazine was believed to contain eight hundred and twenty thousand shot and shell, a large number of Snyder rifles, and six tons of powder. One man of the Sixth regiment, twenty-one Goorkhas, six camp followers and many Afghans were killed by the explosion.

Mutiny in Chesapeake Bay.

BALTIMORE, October 19.—A negro crew of the British bark, "Nova Scotia" went hence yesterday for Avonmouth, mutinied when off Annapolis, and made an attack on the officers. In the conflict which ensued, one of the mutineers was shot, after which the others yielded. The bark proceeded to the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, and procured a file of marines, who put the mutineers in irons and brought them to this city.

Death at a Funeral.

RICHMOND, Oct. 20.—Rev. Jas. Ferrar, pastor of the Fourth Colored Baptist church of this city, died suddenly yesterday wile officiating at a funeral. He had just announced the hymn over the remains of the deceased, and had stepped back to the seat to await the conclusion, when he was seized with a sudden pain, and died from heart disease in a few minutes. The coroner viewed the remains, and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Another Southern Outrage.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—Two colored men, Robert Mackey and Lewis Mims, had a difficulty at Quaker Springs Church yesterday. Mackey shot Lewis twice and then razored him. Lewis died instantly. Mackey has fled. Both men were in love with the same woman.

The President's Message.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—It is understood that the President will in his annual message to Congress include an extended reference to the inter-oceanic canal project, with some valuable information on the subject. The President will call the attention of Congress to the importance of taking such action as may be necessary and proper to further private enterprise in constructing the work.

Current Topics.

WASHINGTON, October 20.—Senators Saulsbury and Vance, of the sub-committee of the committee on privileges and elections, investigating the election of Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, arrived in Washington to-day. The next meeting of the committee will be held on the Thursday after the meeting of Congress. There are about six witnesses who are in contempt, having refused to appear before the committee, and their cases will be reported to the Senate.

Representative Money, of Mississippi, in an address at Wenona, in that State, on the 16th instant, spoke largely on national politics and made a strong argument in favor of a conservative and conciliatory course toward the North, arguing that the recent Democratic losses in the North are due to sectional discussions in Congress. He was heartily indorsed, and his speech was loudly applauded.

The Wallace committee to investigate the mysteries and the miseries of the elections in the North will meet in New York about the middle of November.

The National Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Mr. McKinney, the chairman of the Ohio Democratic committee, joins his opinion with those who no longer regard Mr. Thurman as a probable Presidential candidate. He also says the Ohio Democracy will be for Tilden next year. Friends of Mr. Pendleton say that they consider he will be in the field, however, and it is said sentiment to this effect is now being worked up. Considering that Mr. Pendleton may almost be styled the father of the greenback idiocy, there would seem to be no foundation for this idea. Mr. Pendleton, it is understood, took very little interest in the campaign just closed. It is learned that Senator Lamar spoke at Vicksburg on the 16th. He favors Senator Bayard for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, and he deplores the Yazoo affair.

Death by Fever and Bullet.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 20.—No new cases have been reported. Judge John D. Adams died this morning. A very light frost perceptible only in marshy places beyond the city limits fell last night. The continued uncertainty as to the fate of Professor Wise and Mr. Burr, who ascended in a balloon from St. Louis on Sunday, September 28th, recalls the aerial voyage of La Mountain and Haddock, twenty years ago, in 1859. They ascended from Watertown New York, sailed 300 miles in four hours, and landed in the depths of a Canadian wilderness, far north of civilized habitations. They were four days without food, and were absent from home thirteen days, returning after everybody had given them up for lost.

THE UTES MUST GO.

NOTICE TO QUIT FROM THE COLORADO PEOPLE.

Pitkin Wants Blood---Gen. Sheridan Wants Blood--Secretary Schurz Wants Blood.

Washington Republican, 20th,

Inspector W. J. Pollock telegraphs to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs from Denver, Colorado, as follows:

The Governor and leading citizens here unanimously affirm that the Indians must be removed from the State or exterminated by the State, if not by Federal force. Confidence, they say, can never be restored, and it is only a question whether the result shall be attained at once or by slow and tedious warfare.

GENERAL SHERMAN WANTS BLOOD.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—To General Sherman, General Merritt says, in a dispatch just received, that he intends to march in pursuit of the hostile Indians to Grand River on the 15th, and from there to the Uncompahgre agency, where he requests supplies to be sent. Subsequently your dispatch of October 13th was sent to him with orders to obey the directions therein given, and I presume this will stop him. Your dispatch should have reached him on the 15th.

General Merritt and General Crook, the Department Commander, are at a loss to know what to do, and so am I. There are fifteen or sixteen hundred men at White River. Their road to the Uncompahgre agency is over the main range of the Rocky mountains and is very bad, and the danger of being caught by winter snows should be seriously entertained. We went to the White River agency at the solicitation of the Indian Bureau, whose agent was murdered, and our men killed and wounded; and now we are left in the heart of the mountains with our hands tied and the danger of being snowed in staring us in the face. I am not easily discouraged, but it looks as though we had been pretty badly sold out in this business. It is folly to say that the murderers of the agent and Colonel Thornburgh must be punished. How are they to be punished, who is going to punish them, and how long are the troops to wait at the agency for it to be done? I will direct Crook to throw into the agency all the supplies he possibly can as the only course left open.

P. H. SHERIDAN, Lieut.-General.

EXPLANATION FROM THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

Secretary Schurz says with reference to the criticisms upon his Department for alleged neglect of Agent Meeker's telegraphic appeal for relief, that this appeal, although dated White River agency, September 10th, did not reach Rawlins until Saturday, September 15th, and Washington at 6 P. M. on that day, and that it was communicated by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to the War Department Monday morning, September 17th, whereupon orders were immediately issued for the movement of troops to the White River agency.

CAPTAIN DODGE AND THE WOUNDED.

RAWLINS, Wy. T., Oct. 18.—The wounded of the battle of Milk Creek arrived this afternoon with Company F, of the Fifth cavalry, Captain Payne commanding; Company D, Fifth cavalry, Lieutenant Wolf commanding; Company E, Third cavalry, Captain Lawson commanding, the whole force being under command of Captain Dodge. The wounded, thirty-two in number, were all doing well. They were met here by Colonel Summers, medical director of the department of the Platte, and Assistant Surgeon Swing, of Fort Steele, and were immediately placed in the train for transportation to Fort Steele and Fort Russell. Captain Payne remains here and is doing well. Major Thornburgh's body was brought in by this party and was shipped to Omaha. The list of wounded is the same as heretofore published. None of the wounded as first reported have died. The party had stormy weather on the road. Rain began falling at Fortification Creek and continued for several days. The command was nine days on the road.

LATER.

CAMP ON WHITE RIVER, THREE MILES NORTH AGENCY.)

COLORADO, Oct. 17.—[Via Rawlins, N. Y.]—This afternoon Gen. Merritt's command returned to this point, orders from Washington being to suspend operations against the Utes and await orders, either at White or Bear River, as negotiations for peace are in progress, it being understood that the hostiles have agreed to surrender the warriors engaged in the recent depredations. It is probable that the combined commands of Merritt and Gilbert will remain for the present at this point, although nothing definite is known as to future movements. In the event of peace being established it is probable that a permanent military post will be constructed, either at Bear River or the agency.

Grantism in the South.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—A Republican just from New Orleans says that in the recent primary elections of his party, the tickets bore at the head the picture of Grant, with the inscription, "Here comes the man on horseback." The picture of Grant took with the colored people like wildfire, and they deposited their ballots with great enthusiasm. What was known as the custom-house ticket, and which was understood to have Sherman delegates, got only about one-fifth of the vote received by the Grant ticket.

The Visiting Governors at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—The visiting Governors attended Divine service this morning at Old Christ P. E. Church, which Washington attended while President. The church was decorated with flags and National shields, containg the names of George Washington, Robert Morris, Bishop White, Benjamin Franklin and Francis Hopkinson.

Nothing from the Blair Jury.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 19.—The jury in the trial of Joseph A. Blair, for murder, has not appeared in court since retiring, and has now been out thirty-six hours. Cracked His Skull.

SUMMITVILLE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Saturday last Jeptha VanInwegen, a well-to-do farmer, and his son Philip were working together loading a canal boat, the latter insulted some ladies who were passing. The husband and a brother of one of the young ladies undertook to punish young VanInwegen. A free fight resulted, in which the elder VanInwegen struck George Johnson, brother of the insulted lady with a stick of wood, breaking his skull and ensuing in death. Johnson is thirty years old and leaves a family. VanInwegen is held for trial.

General Grant Going to Galena.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—A Portland dispatch says: "General Grant informed a reporter of the Oregonian that he intended to go direct to Galena from this coast. He would remain there a short time before attending the re-union of the Army of Tennessee at Chicago, and would to all probability make Galena his future home.

THE POCASSET AFFAIR.

Freeman Indicted for Murder and His Wife Discharged.

BARNSTABLE, Mass., Oct. 17.—The result of the case of Charles F. Freeman, of Pocasset, before the grand jury of the October term of the Superior Court for the county of Barnstable, before Judge P. Emery Aldrich, was presented to the court this forenoon. At 4:45, the court room being crowded with spectators, Freeman and his wife, with other prisoners, were brought into the room. An effort was made by the spectators to get a fair view of both. At 5:05 Mrs. Freeman was placed at the bar, when the clerk of the court said: "Harriet R. E. Freeman, the grand jury having found no bill against you, you are discharged." She was immediately conducted out of the court room. Through a mistake of the officer in charge, Mr. Freeman was brought into court, but, before his wife was discharged, he was taken back to jail. The grand jury find, in the case of Charles F. Freeman, that on the morning of May 1, 1879, he being at the time of sound mind, did willfully commit the crime of murder on one Edith, his daughter, with a butcher-knife, killing her instantly. Verdict, murder in the first degree. Freeman will be arraigned at a special session of the Supreme Court, which will be called some time in December next.

Cotton Manufacture.

Hon. J. F. Awtry's speech recently delivered in the Georgia Legislature, contained some notable points. The most striking extracts are those referring to cotton manufacture. Mr. Awtry said:

Georgia produced at least five hundred thousand bales of cotton in 1878. This cotton at the very low prices that prevailed was worth $22,500,000. If we had converted this raw material into yarns, and exported it in that shape, it would have added 100 per cent to its value. Instead of $22,500,000 we would have had $45,000,000. If after converting it into yarns, we had made cloth of it, we would have so increased its value that the crop would have been nearly equal to $60,000,000. As a matter of course I do not pretend to accuracy in this statement, but offer it as an approximation merely to indicate the very great increase in value that results from the manipulations of the manufacturer. * * * The most extensive cotton spinner in New England, perhaps in the world, has traveled over the South and attentively considered our advantages, and he admitted that he could spin cotton at from 5 to 7 per cent. cheaper than he could in New England. But the truth is we can spin cotton from 10 to 12 per cent. cheaper in Georgia than in New England. The expenses on one hundred pounds of cotton shipped from here to Providence, Fall River or Lowell, will amount to 12½ per cent. on present prices. This expense the spinner can save, or very nearly save; this gives us in the item of cost of raw material a clear advantage of 10 per cent. This of itself is a good profit. In addition to this we have great advantages in climate and water power. The only advantage that New England has over us is in skilled labor; but that advantage will be temporary. So soon as our people turn their attention to cotton spinning in earnest this will vanish. The point I wish to make is this: If New England can export cotton goods to the old world and successfully compete with English spinners and others right at their doors, what could not Georgia do with her unequaled advantages, if her energies and and capital were once turned in this direction?

The Redpath Mystery.

New York Star, 18th.

Friends of James Redpath, the lecture agent and manager, have at last unraveled the mystery of his disappearance from this city on the 4th of September. They have learned that he is alive and well. Charles A. Newton, Redpath's assistant, traced his movements to a steamer, the name and destination of which are kept secret. Redpath was prostrate from overwork, and had gone aboard the steamer "with the hope of obtaining mental and physical rest by going to a place of which he had pleasant recollections.

LATER.—Charles A. Newton, treasurer of Redpath, the missing manager, is in Boston. He traced Redpath to the steamer Atlas, of the West Indies line, Thursday, September 4th. He saw the purser when the steamer returned and that official said Redpath came on board, dazed and evidently worn out. He bought his ticket of the purser. He regained his strength somewhat during the voyage and left the Atlas at Kingston, Jamaica, intending to go to the mountains for rest and recreation. Newton has not heard from Redpath, but says he has no doubt he will return as soon as he is able. Redpath, he claims, was not in a bad financial condition, but it is certain from what the purser told him that he went alone on the journey and had but little money with him.

Looming Up.

Washington Republican.

Bayard looms up in the lurid Democratic vista as a possibility for 1880. The smoke arising from Thurman's funeral pyre covers the Bourbon camp with temporary obscurity, but as it clears away T. Francis Bayard and S. Jones Tilden appear to be standing erect, unscorched if not unanimched, and in readiness to cheer up the mourners. But Bayard is a poor man and has no bar'l.

THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

Pistol and Knife---Carolina Horses at Atlanta---Reported Revenue Frauds in Gaston County.

A TROUBLESOME NEIGHBOR.

Asheville Journal.

The pistol and knife have been brought into requisition at Black Mountain. Mr. Cordell on returning from a squirrel hunt several days since, called on Mr. Hayman High, a neighbor, to get a pair of hames he had lent him some time before. Leaving his gun in the road, Mr. Cordell went to the house, when Mr. High procured a butcher knife, ran Mr. Cordell to the road, inflicting a wound before the latter could get over the fence. Mr. Cordell seeing that High was determined to injure him still further, and not being able to make good his retreat, was compelled to shoot High down.

SOMETHING OF A POTATO.

Piedmont Press.

The longest potato yet heard from is now in this office. It measures 32½ inches. All of our exchanges may now take a back seat, for we claim to be head of the class in this respect. It was grown by Mr. Morgan, near Hickory.

CHARLOTTE HORSES AT ATLANTA.

Charlotte Observer.

The Charlotte horses that were sent to the Atlanta fair will appear in the races this week. "Mecklenburg," Mr. Dal Rigler's three year old, will enter a mile dash Tuesday. On the same day Dr. Graham's three year old, "Mollie G," will enter the course with eight others in three quarters of a mile race. Thursday "Mecklenburg" will run the mile and a half race with nine competitors. These two are the only ones of the stable that will be run in regular races. They are in excellent condition and the owners and their friends will watch their first trials with great interest.

REPORTED REVENUE FRAUDS.

Charlotte Observer.

Since the seizure of the five barrels of whisky in Gaston county, there have been reports of the discovery of fraud on the part of revenue officials and the operators of registered or licensed distilleries, by which a ring or combination was formed and which has been operating on quite an extensive scale. Rumor says that the plans of this combination have been discovered and that more revelations are to follow. There is no positive information on the subject, and in the absence of this we refrain from giving further particulars. There are a great many registered distilleries in the county, perhaps more than in any county in the State.

THE CATAWBA EXPLORATION.

Newton Enterprise.

Captain J. M. Walbrect, the officer who, with a party of engineers, has been engaged in exploring the Catawba and Watauga rivers for the past month, arrived in Columbia Monday night. His fleet, which consists of three boats containing the exploring party, is anchored near the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad bridge, just below Acton. The Captain expects to reach Charleston in two weeks.

A GEORGIA PARADISE.

Morganton Blade.

We are glad to see the genial countenance of our old friend L. H. Corpening on our streets this week. "Lush" has been working in the gold mines of North East Georgia and has met with success; he has his pockets full of nuggets of gold and has come to spend some of it with his friends. He says that he is going to "splurge" around here a few days and then return to Georgia, which he says is the best country the world ever saw, whisky being only sixty cents per gallon, honey two cents a pound and gold just lying around loose in the dirt. A great many of the boys hereabout are almost persuaded to return with him to that land so much to be desired by them.

A SHOCKING DEATH.

Goldsboro Messenger.

On Saturday last, Mr. Jesse Jones, an old man about 75 years old, met a most terrible death at what is known as the old Exum grist mill, now owned by Mr. R. L. Paschall, about ten miles from Goldsboro. It seems that he was engaged in regulating something about the mill, when his coat was caught by the gearing and before he could extricate himself, his body was dragged and crushed between the teeth of the large iron driving wheel and the pinion attached to it. When assistance came, the mangled dead body was found suspended some eight or nine feet above the floor, with bowels and breast literally ripped open from the right hip up, presenting a most shocking and heart-rending sight. The mill gearing had to be taken apart before the body could be released from between the wheels.

A SHOCKING MURDER.

Attempt to Conceal the Crime by Burning the Body.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 19.—The Sentinel's special from Milton, Wis., gives details of a horrible murder which occurred there at 1 o'clock this morning. Henry Christianson, who boarded with Edward Fogarty, a tinpeddler, confessed to the following: "Fogarty came home at 10 o'clock last night; we had been drinking, and Fogarty insulted me and drew a revolver and threatened to shoot me. I knocked him down and took away his revolver and went out doors. Fogarty followed me. I picked up an axe and struck him two blows, killing him. I then carried him to a clover stack, set it on fire and came back to the house." The crime was discovered this morning by the finding of the body under the clover stack, half consumed. A trail of blood followed, which led to Fogarty's house, whereupon Christianson and Mrs. Fogarty were arrested.

The former confessed his guilt, but claimed the woman had nothing to do with the affair. No particular pains were taken to conceal the crime, except to dig up the ground in front of the door, where the body had lain for some time, the burning of a wooden leg of the victim in the stove, and the attempt to burn the body. It is belived that Christianson and the woman conspired together to get the husband out of the way. When accused of the crime neither manifested any uneasiness, but remained perfectly cool and collected. Christianson is about forty years of age, a painter by occupation. The woman is described as very unprepossessing in appearance and devoid of all womanly qualities. She has two children, a boy and a girl. The prisoners were taken to the Janesville jail to await trial.

The Mormon Censer.

Dalton Citizen.

It becomes more and more evident that the Mormon cancer must be gotten rid of some way. Whether it is be the gradual process of alterative moral influences, or by the sharp surgery of force, depends greatly upon the behavior of the polygamists themselves. But their present position is untenable. It cannot be lawful for them to do what it is a felony for a citizen of Georgia or New York to do. The government should have back bone enough about it to eradicate the cancerous growth at once and forever from the body politic of the nation; and if this cannot be done without exercising force, why then the force should be exercised, and exercised with vigor.

THE MISSISSIPPI PLAN.

The "Shotgun Policy" Discarded, and Joint Meetings Substituted.

New Orleans Democrat 17th.

The turn affairs have taken in Mississippi politics will scarcely prove agreeable to the people who seek every conceivable opportunity to abuse and ridicule that State. The Democrats have so arranged as to provide for joint discussions between the parties. An agreement to that effect has been drawn up and signed. Among other things the agreement provides that "such person or persons as may be selected shall meet in public debate of all the issues of the canvass, and that at such debates the Democratic and Republican parties shall bring out all their members of both races to hear said discussions; and that both parties, by joint committees for that purpose, shall preserve order and decorum during and after said discussions; and that joint barbecues shall be given on these occasions, and full and free discussion indulged in and the old era of good feeling restored." A turbulent campaign is Mississippi and elsewhere in the South would suit the Republican organs North much better than the quiet, orderly and harmonious one that has been provided for, and will be conducted to a close, if the utmost efforts of the Democratic party of that State can avail to enforce the agreement entered into by the respective committees. Perhaps the right of the Democrats of Mississippi to conduct an orderly canvass will not be conceded, and the agreement entered into with the Republicans will be denounced as another Southern outrage.

The Mill Problem.

Boston Advertiser.

The starting of a yarn factory in the midst of the cotton fields, near the borders of South Carolina and Georgia, has revived hopes at the South that at some early day manufacturing on a large scale may be successfully established among them. There is no reason in the nature of things why it should not be; indeed, the mills in the neighborhood of Atlanta, are understood to have done very well from the beginning, furnishing a convenient market to the neighboring planters, giving employment to a considerable body of operatives, and paying satisfactory dividends to the owners of the property. Unquestionably the South would be benefited in every conceivable way by the extension of its manufactures, and by the introduction of more varied interests, which would certainly follow. But the South is apparently in no condition to make the venture for itself; and the state of political and social feeling is a nearly insurmountable barrier to the introduction of foreign capital. Still, it is not impossible to overcome these difficulties in a measure; and how to overcome them is a problem well worthy of the study of every citizen of the South who is interested in its future welfare.

"Can it be possible my Algernon no longer loves his little brown eyes? Can it be that her caresses have become irksome to him at last!" said a heart-broken young pull-back of our local Nobhillity to her "steddy company" the other evening, as the latter seemed inclined to remove her clinging form from his breast. "Your Algernon is all right," said the youth with an uneasy squirm, "but if you don't let up a minute, Tilder, the spiral of my stud will come out through my backbone sure."

C. A. SEPARK, O. S.

Died in this city on Sunday, October 18th, the little Rita, youngest child of Dr. Richard B. and Julia O. Haywood, aged four years, two months and eleven days. Brooklyn and New York papers please copy.

"Silent lies the little sleeper,
With the lilies on her breast;
Tender kiss, or burst of weeping,
May not stir her perfect rest.

Closed those sweet blue eyes forever,
On this changeful scene below;
Never on that polished forehead,
Care shall trace one line of woe.

To that Ark of Peace she fluttered,
From the storm, and wind and rain,
Surely for her feet, the fowler
Now may spread his nets in vain.

The sign over the store reads as follows: "Books, Stationery, Drugs and Medicines." He went in and asked for copy of "Croup in Children" and the clerk handed him a bottle of Dr. Bull's cough syrup.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wilder, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often."

"Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy. I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars' worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time."

"Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

RUSSIAN BARBARITIES.

INCIDENTS OF THE REPRESSION OF ALLEGED RIOTS.

If one half of what has been told in print in the London journals about the treatment of Nihilist prisoners in Russia is true, a pitch of savagery has been reached there which it is hard to call a disgrace to the age.

A letter dated at St. Petersburg, September 21, relates an event that exceeds in horror the tale lately furnished of the unhappy man at Jhitomir, who [illegible] by burning his spine. The story is that of a young man named Somoff, who had been a student of the Odessa University. He was thrust into a cell reeking with abomination, and, being a sensitive person, he begged the governor of of the jail that his room might be cleaned. The request was disregarded and was repeated. Upon this the Governor, enraged as it is said, by the importunity of his prisoner, ordered him to be strapped down and flogged with terrible severity. After this shameful infliction Somoff's arms were lashed behind him and he was flung headlong on his pallet of hard boards to live or die as he might. The scene was followed by one of the most extraordinary and pitiable tragedies on record. Somoff, crushed with the terrible ignominy more than by the bodily agony of his situation,

RESOLVED IF POSSIBLE TO PERISH.

He staggered to his feet and managed to seize with his teeth a lamp filled with petroleum which was burning above his head. Still with his teeth he contrived to crack the glass well holding the petroleum. The flame caught the oil, and in a few moments the poor wretch was covered with streams of liquid fire. He then lay down, and, without a sound, was literally roasted. The smell of the fire brought the jailers at last, and the flames were extinguished. Somoff lived nearly four hours afterward and told what he had done, as has now been repeated.

Another atrocious narrative has been printed by the Russian journal that is published in Geneva. It is the personal experience of a woman who was sent to exile for the crime of "imparting instruction to peasant children," which is permitted to male teachers only. This woman, who is called Olimpiada Kafiero, avers that she with other women was stripped and searched by the gendarmes and subjected by them to gross indignities. They were struck and kicked with such brutal violence that "blood followed the blows and kicks." Being they were shut up with females of the vilest description. They were compelled to travel on foot until and after their shoes were filled with blood, and when they often dropped fainting by the roadside. During this time they were kept in handcuffs and at night were locked in dens noisome with ordure and vermin. At one frightful place called Wolkowyski not only were criminals of both sexes and of the vilest speech confined with these unhappy women, but a madman, stark naked, was turned into their cell, who flew into paroxysms during the night and struck out right and left, knocking his helpless companions in every direction. Some relief from this appalling series of experiences seems at last to have been gained by the intervention of Gen. Gourko, and Madame Kafiero in the sequel made her escape.

These stories, shocking as they are, it is painful to add, are typical of many others. Terror of the Nihilist conspiracy seems to have made the Russian authorities insane. For surely it is like insanity to permit and practice barbarities certain not only to provoke bitter reprisals at every opportunity, but to draw down the sharp condemnation of all civilized peoples. In our political sympathies what they may, we can hardly maintain that a system under which such desperate cruelties are inflicted as have been described, ought either to be spread over larger areas or to be tolerated in those where it is already practiced. The Russian government should effect a prompt and rigorous reform in the treatment of political prisoners if it would retain its rank and consideration among the Christian Powers.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough."—B., Rochester, N. Y. See other column.

DAILY NEWS

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1879.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THOMAS NAST says he does not care who edits the literary part of Harper's Weekly as long as he edits the pictures. It may be that the card issued by the proprietors of that paper indorsing Mr. Curtis may exercise some restraint over his wild flights of fancy.

Down in "old Mississip" political discussions are to be carried on in a different manner than heretofore. It is proposed to appoint days in different sections for such discussions and have both parties meet to hear the questions debated, after which a barbecue will be given. Whether or no this plan for harmony can be carried out remains to be seen.

The St. Louis Republican of the 12th instant says:

Business letters received here from the South represent that the corn crop in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Texas is short from the drought which has prevailed in these States, and that a large demand will be made upon the North for supply this year. The crop of vegetables in Texas, also from the same cause, has been largely cut down, and a large demand for potatoes, cabbage, etc., is making upon St. Louis for them, and quantities are shipping there and selling at extraordinary prices.

DEMOCRATS of New York! we implore you by the history of the grandest party in the history of the United States, by the memories of Jefferson the founder and Jackson the vindicator, by all that is worth preserving in our institutional rights and chartered liberties, to turn your faces like flint from traitors and Regency ringsters at this trying hour, and fall into line with your true brethren as the only means of achieving a victory which it is in your power to win.—New York Star.

There isn't the least doubt but that Democrats of New York will heed the foregoing appeal and follow the advice contained therein closely to the letter by voting for Lucius Robinson. By the way, when did the Star drop Mr. Kelly?

ALLUDING to the Northern visit of the Gate City Guards, of Atlanta, a New York correspondent of the Savannah Morning News says:

The feeling everywhere, outside the narrow circle of the sour and souring politicians, is that the more reunions we have of this kind the better. As an offset to the visit of these Georgia troops to the North, a member of the Seventh Regiment informs your correspondent that the latter has already received and accepted an invitation to go down to Savannah, in the course of the winter, and from Savannah up to Atlanta, at both of which they are promised a reception, not only by the military, but by the citizens at large.

THE North Carolina News runs up its flag for 1880, with the names of Bayard and Palmer inscribed thereon.—Northern Exchange.

We do not remember any such ticket at the head of a State exchange. To what paper reference is made we cannot say, as none has the above name.—Wilmington Star.

The misapprehension has arisen in this wise: On the 7th instant in replying to a Boston Herald squib we stated that "Mr. Tilden at present seems to have the inside track; but should circumstances preclude his nomination the ticket that would be the strongest, in our belief, is Bayard and Palmer."

IN the statement of the condition of the national banks of the country to be made for October, there will appear a new item which will be of very considerable interest. This item will embrace a statement of the number of bills, notes and drafts which make up the "loans and discounts" of each bank. This will furnish an approximate showing of the number of people in the United States who are borrowers of money, with the average amount borrowed by each. The idea has been borrowed from the French government, and the controller of currency thinks it will be a valuable feature to be incorporated in his annual report.

THE vote in Ohio presents some points of peculiar interest. The total vote was over six hundred thousand. Leaving out of count the eight or ten thousand Greenback voters, it appears ninety-seven voters in Ohio favored the Democrats to every one hundred who preferred the Republicans—handicapped as were the former by undemocratic heresies. Singularly enough the Republicans this year carried nearly all the large cities of Ohio—and the Republicans used to tell us cities are ulcers on the body politic. Outside the chief cities, the Democrats were in a majority in Ohio this year. The Germans, as a rule, voted against the Democrats on the money issue alone this year, and this is not to their discredit, and hence it is altogether probable that a majority of native born citizens in Ohio voted this year with the Democrats. The Irish vote is concentrated mainly in the cities, and the cities went Republican.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

The Washington National Republican is indignant to think that Harper's Weekly, by indorsing the action of Mr. George William Curtis, is not true to the cause of radical Republicanism. Here is the paragraph:

Harper & Brothers have issued a card fully indorsing and justifying the treachery of Mr. Curtis to the Republican cause in New York. This may be a bid for Democratic support, and if so, it is to be hoped that the Republicans will regard "the Journal of Civilization" in its true political light. In aiding the enemies of Republicanism the proprietors of the Weekly may make no mistake when they declare that they have the courage of their opinions and a just pride in the position now taken, but time will tell. Now, they should read: "Let him who thinketh he standeth take heed, lest he fall." The Republican party must show that they have a just pride in Republican principles and nominations, and he that is not for them all the time will be regarded as against them.

For years there has been no stouter supporter of the tenets, as laid down in the platform, of the Republican party. His able pen has been strongly wielded in support of the candidates of that party, provided the men were honest. No sane man can doubt his party fealty. But there is one thing that Mr. Curtis has done, and for which he has received commendation from his bitterest political enemies, and that is he has denounced official corruption and proved an uncompromising foe to those who would make their official positions a source of dishonest profit. He has been a staunch advocate of civil service reform; he has held that the laborer was worthy of his hire, but that in order to obtain the wage the laborer should also be competent to earn it. For this he has been laughed at and jeered at and sneered at by the leaders of the righteous Republican party, but through thick and thin he has held to his text. And for this he is to be commended by honest men of all parties.

Harper's Weekly never displayed much love for the South and her institutions, and since the ending of the war it has not been able to realize that the Southern people were slowly but surely adapting themselves to the new order of things. But while Mr. Nast has garnished the pages with everything hateful that could be flung at us Mr. Curtis' editorials, although severely reflecting upon us, were couched in temperate language; and when anything in the line of vituperation appeared it was always from the pen of that bigoted bohemian, Eugene Lawrence.

But matters appear to have recently undergone a change. The proprietors certainly have experienced no change of heart. The ancient slaveholding element are as freely denounced by pen and pencil as they were years ago; the Roman Catholic religion is as fiercely assaulted as before; Mr. Nast turns out his caricatures of poor, heart-broken Columbia, or Liberty, or it might be Andromeda, weeping tears by the bucketful from week to week; and yet Mr. Curtis is supported in an open card from his employers. And what is the reason?

Simply that Alonzo B. Cornell, the Republican candidate for Governor of New York, is so notoriously corrupt, so politically vile, that decent Republicans will not support him.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Chicago wants the Republican Convention for 1880.

The great trouble with Ohio Democrats is inferiority of numbers. Ten men can't poll as many votes as fifteen no way you can figure it.

John Kelly says that he has tried his best, and studied the matter up, but he never did understand the action of a boomerang until now—Brooklyn Eagle.

Tilden must have been enormously wealthy. According to Republican figures he has paid out about $250,000,000 since 1873, and has lots left.—Detroit Free Press.

The Hon. Thomas Settle, the next Vice President of the United States, arrived in town last night, and is located at the Salem Hotel.—Winston Republican, 16th.

General Grant's trip to Oregon is made at the expense of the Alaska Seal Company—a wealthy ring corporation which received its grants under his Administration. We suppose this may be termed a seal ring.—Mobile Register.

The Democrats of New York are dealing with an open foe, whose bark, we believe, is worse than his bite. But the Republican defection is like an apathy and paralysis, and it is probably more dangerous to Conkling than it seems on the surface.—Baltimore Gazette.

Senator David Davis, of Illinois, is credited with a remark. It is published in the Toledo Sunday Journal, and is to this effect: That if General Ewing is defeated, Grant's nomination for the Presidency is certain, and that once in the White House again he would never leave it alive.

The Albany Argus says that some Republicans concede that Robinson will receive forty thousand Republican votes, and that the Republicans base their hopes of Cornell's election on the absurd claim that Kelly will receive one hundred thousand votes. If he does they will be principally Republican.

Senator Hill's "Mission."

Atlanta Dispatch.

We see that some of the Northern papers speak derisively of the failure of what they call Hon. B. H. Hill's "mission" to New York—assuming that it was to heal the breach between the two divisions of the Democratic party of that State. Such a "mission" would have been an eminently patriotic one, and we do not know any man in the country who could have undertaken it with more hope of success, in view of the well-known conservatism of Mr. Hill, his broad national views, and the confidence and esteem entertained for him by all factions or wings of the Democratic party. But we know that Mr. Hill's visit to New York was solely on business that had no connection with party politics. We expressed the hope, when we learned that he had gone there, that he would be consulted, together with prominent Democrats from other parts of the country also reported to be in New York city, in regard to a reconcilement of the two division of the party in that State. It is possible that he was consulted, but we are satisfied that Mr. Hill did not meddle obtrusively with the local politics of New York, and that it is altogether erroneous to speak of his visit to that State as a political "mission."

Will They be Served Alike?

New Orleans Democrat, 17th.

Now look out for another Southern outrage! Hon. O. R. Singleton went to Holly Springs, Miss., a few days ago to speak to a Democratic mass meeting. The local board of health thought it would be imprudent for the people to gather in large numbers, as in their opinion the public health would be endangered thereby, and issued the necessary order to prevent the meeting, which had been extensively advertised. Colonel Singleton yielded to the mandate of the board and did not speak. So far so good. Now Solon Chase, the Maine Greenback leader, is advertised to speak at Holly Springs in a few days, and it is probable that he will also be prevented from fulfilling his appointment by the board of health. No howl has gone up from the stalwart organs because Colonel Singleton was not allowed to address his fellow-citizens, but if the same prohibition is extended to the Northern Greenbacker lurid head lines will announce another bulldozing affair in Mississippi, and the war will be fought over again with great vigor. In view of these facts, will the board of health of Holly Springs persist in serving Colonel Singleton and Mr. Chase in exactly the same way? We believe they will.

He Never Stoops to Conquer.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Blind indeed must be he who does not see that to-day the two greatest rivals for the Democratic nomination, Tilden and Thurman, are impossibilities, and that the only man of great national proportions left on the Democratic side is he who is not a candidate at all, who never schemes, never intrigues, never stoops to conquer—Thomas Francis Bayard!

Tyner is Safe.

Washington Republican.

The irony of fate receives a terrible, albeit rather ludicrous illustration, when we read in the same paragraph that though our soldiers have been slaughtered, that political anatomy "Assistant Postmaster General Tyner and party, are safe." Here is a platoon of warm-blooded, brave, generous men slain, scalped and horribly mutilated by a savage foe, and ligthnings are invoked to tell us that the Post Office parasite and pulseless penrack, "Jim Tyner," is safe. Who doubted it for a moment? He has played safe all his life. Who the others of the party are was not stated; probably the usual surroundings of a pen-rack, the inkstand, the pen-wiper, and the blotting-pad, who ought all to have been at their official desks. Better to have lost twenty Tyners rather than one Thornburg.

An Old Treasury Loan.

Brooklyn Eagle.

In June, 1836, Congress passed a law authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to lend to the several States of the Union, without interest, the surplus sums in the Treasury. The amount distributed to the States and now due from them is $28,000,000. At the time this action of Congress proved very popular and was hailed with delight. The panic of 1837 caused a cessation of the loan, and the States got a less sum than they otherwise would. The several States made various uses of this money. For some reason, its repayment was never demanded, and until recently the matter had been forgotten. New York State owes the United States treasury four million and odd dollars, "deposited" with it in 1837 for "safe keeping," and the other States their proportion of the remaining $24,000,000. Congress will be asked this winter to recall this money, and there will be no way for the States to avoid paying it. This loan was not embraced in the assets of the Treasury in 1840, and no Secretary of the Treasury since that time seems to have readopted it into his ledger. There is no doubt that the United States deposited the money as a loan, without interest, and that the States received it as such, and not as a gift. The States will, in some instances, find it hard to meet this obligation at this time, and strong opposition will be made to any action by Congress, at least for the present.

A smile is the advertisement of a laugh and a sunny countenance is a sure sign of a full stock of good nature.

Sly Doctors.

It is a fact that many of the "regular" doctors who will not recommend Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure for the diseases which it so effecually removes, yet use it "on the sly" in their practice. They must soon adopt it openly as the standard remedy.

VEGETINE.

Behold Me a Well Woman.

CANCER.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 26, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON.

DEAR SIR:—I have for years been a sufferer from a dreadful CANCER in my side which caused me untold agony, and as I am a widow with a family depencent upon my exertions for a support, my pain of body was only equalled by my pain of mind, at seeing my children want for bread. I was presented by a kind friend in Cincinnati with half a dozen bottles of Vegetine, and although one bottle is still untouched, behold me a well woman, completely restored in body and mind, and able to perform my accustomed duties. Long may you live! and may the history of my wonderful cure lead other like sufferers to purchase your valuable medicine, if it is with the last cent they possess.

Yours gratefully,
MRS. FULLER SUTT.

I write this to certify that I have known Mrs. Fuller Sutt from childhood, and have seen the hours of agony, that her patient womanhood has been called upon to endure. She has suffered untold agonies and now sits beside me in perfect health with her child upon her knee. The prayers of this grateful woman will ever be yours, my noble sir, and we add our testimony to the thousands that favor the greatest of all modern discoveries, "Vegetine."

Yours respectfully,
MRS. CHELLET SUMMER.

SUFFERED 25 YEARS.

Piles, Rheumatism.

GOODMAN, MISS., May 6, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I have been suffering for 25 years with the Piles and found but little relief from any medicine that I have taken for many years past. Last winter I suffered considerably worse than ever before, also in connection with Rheumatism I was confined to my bed for several weeks. Having procured a bottle of Vegetine I took it with good effect. I continued the use, and after taking four or five bottles, find myself comparatively cured. I can cheerfully recommend it for the benefits that I have received from it.

Yours respectfully,
J. W. TAGGART.

LUNG DISEASE.

SELMA, ALA., May 12, 1872.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I take great pleasure in recommending your Vegetine. I have been suffering for a long time with the Lung Disease; trying every kind of medicine that I could get, but none seemed to do me any good, until I tried your great Vegetine remedy. I had used it only a short time before I could discover a very great change in my health for the better. I don't consider that your medicine has its equal, for the diseases which you propose to cure, especially the disease that I have been afflicted with.

LIVER PILLS

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon naving the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

Her Foot.

Just as her coach was entering,
Did I see her foot one day—
Ah! what feeling overcame me!
But what it was I cannot say.

Crazy-like the coach I followed;
Where it stopped, I stopped again—
And once more the wondrous vision
Of that foot disturbed my brain.

Not one instant I forget it,
Or in peace, or joy, or strife—
I never saw a larger foot—
I never did in all my life!

He said he wanted her to be a helpmeet, and she replied that she could never be more than assister to him

It is announced that only girls who have warts or other blemishes on their foreheads wear their hair banged now.

A Chicago reporter says that he has seen a pair of white satin stockings trimmed indescribably withsilver, in a shop.

"And oh, Edward," said the girl he was going to leave behind him, "at every stopping place be sure you write, then go ahead."

All is fair in love and war. This explains why the girls paint, powder and put on false curls the evenings they expect their young man.

Madam Jules Simon is one of the most ardent workers in France for the higher education of women, which she wishes established by law.

A young lady being asked if there were many beautiful women in the place, instantly replied: "Oh, no; there are only six of us at present."

The novelties in chair and sofa tidies are made of hand-painted bands of silk alternating with point d'esprit lace and bordered with the same.

Rosa Bonheur has two pictures in the Antwerp triennial fine arts exhibition. This is the first time she has placed a picture on exhibition for fifteen years.

A Breton lace traise is worn by the most fashionable women within the linen collar, and an Incroyable bow of Breton lace is placed at the throat.

The wife of the Austrian juror, at the French Exposition, a woman of extraordinary talent, was to prepare a report for her country upon woman's higher education in America.

Imitation pearl lace only costs $50 a yard; diamond lace is worth $1,000 a yard, and no American womaa is contented with cheap wax beads while an inch of the richer stuff is to be found.

An exchange says: "Let girls be girls." That may suit some of them, but nine out of every ten would rather be a married woman.

Many girls would rather wear their stockings with holes in, than have them darned, because when darned they are mended, and girls prefer men alive.

Married three times and but seventeen years of age is the history of a Mrs. Rhodes, now confined at the New Hampshire Reform School. She was sentenced on complaint of her husband for disorderly conduct.

The industry of tying strings to business tags has been carried on for twenty years by a woman at Falmouth, Mass., and it now furnishes occupation to three hundred or four hundred persons.

The two persons who pay the highest taxes in Providence are women—Mrs. Elizabeth Gainwell, on property assessed at $997,200, and Caroline Goddard on property worth $784,400.

"Oh take me to the exposition!"
In accents wild she cried,
While he in calmness reached around
And drew her to his side,
Then put her neck within his arm,
Of course with her volition,
And said, "My love, I consider this
To be a neck's position."

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

The most Healing, Soothing and Refreshing External Application in the World

It rapidly heals Ulcers, Old Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Itching Piles and other Itching affections that have been the torture of a lifetime, thus affording unspeakable gratification to thousands; Burns, Scalds, Wounds and Fester; all Itching and Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, and all Affections of the scalp, including Loss of Hair. Nothing like it has ever been known to the most intelligent physicians. It has swept a host of poisonous remedies out of existence. It is revolutionary in its composition and mode of treatment and succeeds in curing every external affection. At every stage it is ably assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, which is a part of itself medicinally and at the same time the most delightfully fragrant and refreshing Toilet, Bath, and Nursery Soap in existence.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a powerful purifying agent and liver stimulant, should be taken to neutralize and resolve away blood poisons, caused by the virus of scrofula, cancer, canker, malarial or contagious diseases, which maintain and foster diseases which maintain and foster diseases of the skin and scalp.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a burden from the sufferings caused by this terrible disease.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER—Gentlemen: Please accept my most grateful thanks for the great, very great, comfort I have received from the use of your CUTICURA.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum,

For months I would be helpless,—my very life a burden to me.

I have used everything in the shape of medicine, both external and internal, but with no effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would try CUTICURA.

I tried it, and lo! it was as if a miracle had been performed, for I will take my oath that in three applications my hands were as smooth as a new-born babe's.

I presume there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know of my case, among whom there may be some one similarly afflicted, and if so I would earnestly advise him to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, very thankfully,
A. D. BAKER, Ticket Agent C. S. R. R.

Tetter or Salt Rheum

On the hands cured. A greatful letter.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER—Gentlemen—Having been troubled for many years with the Tetter or Salt Rheum, I spent many a hard-earned dollar I was given a trial of your CUTICURA, and, thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me good like that.

You may put this in the paper and welcome, and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me! I am well known here, having lived here almost fifteen years and kept boarders for a living, and sometimes my heart was sore, thinking I would have to give up altogether with my sore hands, and having a small family to take care of; but oh! thank God, my hands are well, so I again return thanks.

Yours respectfully,
ELIZABETH BUKLEY.
LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

Since the death of Speaker Kerr and Senator Morton, of Bright's Disease, it has been noticed and noted that a large number of our public men and leading business men die too early from the same or a similar cause. By using Warner's safe Cure, their diseases will be cured, and their valuable lives prolonged. The time is coming when, because of this remedy, no one will die of such diseases as Bright's and Diabetes.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. Le ncur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, LL. D., Col. Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B F. Woodward P. E., Va. Conf. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by
